Royal Drakensberg Primary aims to be a leading independent primary school for young children. Its mission is to provide a world class education for the children of this Northern Berg community by cultivating a culture that embraces holistic educational practices and the best lessons of South Africa's unique non-racial democracy.

Established in 2007 in an effort to address the great need for good education in this area, Royal Drakensberg Primary now has 26 children from preschool to Grade 3, with plans to add a grade each year. A school offering a high standard of education will go a long way to give children the necessary grounding to reach their full potential. A scholarship fund has been established to make the school accessible to children in the surrounding communities, and currently 11 children attend the school through this scholarship fund.

Running costs of the school are covered primarily through the fees, and by fund raising initiatives. All proceeds from the Royal Drakensberg Mountain Bike Challenge will go directly to the school.

Thank you for your support.
